

BRIS SPARED BY COFFEE POSSE

GUARANTEE OF QUICK TRIAL
SAVES THE LIFE OF BLACK MAN

Dothan, Sept. 28.—A negro last night about 8 o'clock entered the home of Mr. Sol Wise, who lives on Beat 16, about nine miles from Dothan, and attempted a criminal assault upon Mrs. Wise.

Mrs. Wise and her small children were in the house alone. Mrs. Wise had been asleep but a short time when she felt something touch her ankle. Thinking it was a cat, she attempted to brush it away, when the negro clasped her tightly. She reached for a box of matches at the head of the bed and struck a light, which frightened the negro, making him run. The neighbors were soon aroused, tracked the negro and captured him in an old gin.

The posse was thoroughly aroused and talked of hanging the negro, but cooler heads prevailed, and they guarded him all night, bringing him to Elba today and sending him over to Deputy Sheriff Dan Knight.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Coffee county was held in the home of P. Hall and a committee was appointed to go before Judge Pearce, who is holding court here this week to ask for immediate trial. Judge Pearce summoned a special grand jury which was impaneled this afternoon and the case will be tried this week.

The negro is named Dave Halstead and was reared in Coffee county.

MAIL SERVICE ON THE ELBA BRANCH

Chief Clerk, J. A. White, of the Railway Mail Service, from Birmingham, spent yesterday in Dothan investigating the necessity of putting on a mail service on the Elba branch of the Coast Line railroad from Elba to Dothan.

There is already a mail service from Waterford to Elba, and has been for several years, but since extending the line to Dothan a few weeks ago, no steps have been taken toward extending the run of the mail clerk on to this city.

Mr. White speaks favorably of the matter and thinks that the service will be extended to Dothan making connections with all intermediate points.

MOVES TO MONTGOMERY

Train Master J. A. Bowdoin moved his family to Montgomery today, where he could be more conveniently located for his duties with the road. He is one of the most popular officials of the Coast Line, and has been promoted step by step during his long service with the road. He moved to Dothan twelve or fifteen years ago, when he was conductor on the Abbeville Southern, and bought property while it was cheap, and most of the time since. He has made many friends here, who regret to see him leave, but in his work for the Coast line he will be in Dothan about as much as he was formerly.

THE BOOKS AT NIX'S DRUG STORE

Some of the people of Dothan have probably seen the wagon load of books at the Nix Drug Company's store, back in the ice cream parlor—the courting room, so to speak. They were put up yesterday, and there is almost a thousand volumes, probably as complete a library as can be found in the city, if not in a hundred miles of Dothan.

You who love books, take a look over the assortment. Nearly all of the standard works that are read much are there; nearly all of the best novels that live three years are there; some of the Harvard Classics, Dr. Eliot thought would do, are there, but not all of them. The selection will meet the needs of as many readers as any in the state, we believe.

Nix Drug Company have not gone into the book business, we will state here to keep down so many questions. The space has been kindly loaned for the display of the books a few weeks. The cases are sold by Malone Furniture Company.

The books are to be given away by The Dothan Eagle, with the assistance of various merchants of the city. Trading stamps, or perforated tickets, will be given on cash purchases by merchants. Enough of these tickets will award this library to some worthy institution of the city, or to some individual. In other words, when you spend money with the merchants who handle the library stamps, or tickets, they give you 100 tickets with each dollar purchase for cash. You give these tickets to the institution you wish to have the library. There are several worthy institutions in the city. There is the city school library, already growing by the many books donated; then there is the Dothan Public Library, a worthy institution; and the various secret orders might be interested in securing the books for their reading rooms, such as the Elks, the Woodmen, or the Masonic Lodge.

When you make a cash purchase, ask for the library tickets, for 100 votes go with each dollar spent with the merchants handling the tickets. This paper will announce in every issue the names of the merchants handling the tickets.

Meantime, go down and look at these books, and see what you think of them. See if you can think of some place where they would be needed or appreciated. They are at Nix's Drug Store.

Some people love to read newspapers and books. See the library on display in the ice cream parlors of the Nix Drug Company's store, and if you must read a newspaper, hunt up a copy of the Eagle and keep posted.

A shipment of canned peas and beans of the famous Bohemia brands have arrived. Enough said. Usery Grocery Company, phone 68.

PLAN WIREGRASS DAY AT THE EXPOSITION

Montgomery is to see a "Wiregrass Day" during the fair, October 20, for on that day the great question of the long disputed championship between "Prince Hatcher" owned by Dr. W. C. Vickers, and "Billy Hal," owned by Owen Stengall, both of Abbeville, each having won a race on the Abbeville track, will pace off the final heat here. The "Wiregrass" is noted throughout this section of the South for its blooded horses, as the "Blue Grass" section of Kentucky is known toward the north.

It is appropriate that there should be a "Wiregrass Day" as this section is just as distinctive as a part of Alabama, as the South is a section of the United States. It is below the Black Belt and is pre-eminently a white man's country.

The management of the Exposition has guaranteed a purse that is well worth running for. The management has communicated with Dr. Vickers and Mr. Stengall. All arrangements have been made and the famous race is assured.

The best horses in Alabama are known to be in the "Wiregrass" section, and the people of Southeast Alabama are here to prove it.

Quin Nix thinks several hundred people have asked him about those books he has down in his handsome new store. Read another article in this paper and quit asking questions. It will explain things.

Miss Kathleen Corker, of Eufrasia, left this morning for Valdosta, after a short visit to Miss Annie Johnson on West Main street.

TIPTON-HODGES

This morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride on North Foster street, Mr. J. Walter Tipton and Miss Elizabeth Hodges were married, Rev. F. A. Rogers performing the ceremony.

The wedding was a quiet home affair and only a few friends and relatives of the couple were present.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. W. S. Wilson, the bride and groom entered through the parlor door, and the pretty ceremony was performed in the center of the room by Rev. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton left at 10 o'clock for Jacksonville, Fla., when they will spend a ten days' honeymoon.

Many lovely gifts were received by the couple from their many friends both in and out of Dothan.

CHANCERY COURT TODAY

Chancellor L. D. Gardner, of Troy, is here today holding a regular session of chancery court. The regular routine matter was attended to, and no cases of special interest came up.

The Ways of the World

There was recently established in Tuscaloosa what promised to be one of the newest papers in the state. The first issue was replete with good advertising, set in new type, printed on new machinery and the appearance was a sight. It looked like a thing the town needed, and it looked like the business men of the town would patronize it.

There is another paper published in the town and has been for years. It, too, is a daily, published by a home man, and in looking over his paper it is seen that his pages are filled with advertising while the advertising with the new paper is not keeping the pace it set.

No doubt the disgruntled few who encouraged the new publisher to put in an up to date paper are satisfied, now that the publishers have spent their money in it. The merchants are not giving the new paper enough patronage to anything like maintain the expense of such a paper, for it is a creditable paper for Tuscaloosa.

The merchants realize that practically the same people are reached through the old and well established paper, the paper that has stood the burdens and heat of many a dry summer, and they are standing by it. But this isn't fair for not doubt they told the young men who started the other that it was a mighty good town for such a venture. Now they are letting the paper go the route of many such—by default. They have realized that it increases their advertising expense to patronize two, so they are continuing with the old paper, run by a man they have known and dealt with for years, a man, too, who has devoted so much space of his paper to the building of the city.

Get a Lesson

Galveston, Texas, lost 800 in population during the last ten years. It hasn't been advertising, or boosting much. San Antonio almost doubled in population. Ft. Worth over doubled. These two cities had been making a hard advertising fight for people and industries. They have reaped their reward, but they are not satisfied. They will work right on to double that during the next ten years, and they will do it. Not only these cities increased, but the surrounding country increased. Dothan can get a lesson right here. She ought to start a systematic advertising campaign, and keep it up for ten years, and by next counting time, we will easily be in the 25,000 class. Past history tells something, and we have made gains that will indicate this. We ought to start out for factories, public enterprises, more farmers, and a good class of farmers. It will help the county, and it will help the town, it will help everybody, even those who won't help. The two Texas cities are good examples.

Look Upon the Waters

During the years that we have been running a newspaper in this town, we believe that we have been the cause of many a good man selling out and moving to Houston county, or to Dothan. We have traced many and many of the moves directly to the habit of reading and reading this paper. One man will subscribe for it and send it to a friend, or a kinsman, and it won't be long before the man shows up on a visit, and the chances are he will look over some of the property on the visit and sell out and move for during the year or the next one. That's the history of the town. Part of it is that very single person who has moved to this community as a result of his reading about the section, and then, when he can't find them in the face with a clear conscience. But, clear so far as the moving here goes.

The moral is right at you. Subscribe for the paper, and let it to the man you think would like to come here and make a good citizen.

Such a venture is based upon the waters.

You probably had forgotten all about the government building during the rush of street work out there yet right at the old place, and work is still being done on it, or we should say being done still, for you have to listen to see if it is two or three that are working there. The scaffolding is almost rotten and if the work isn't finished in a few more years, new scaffolds will have to be built. It looks like the contractors on such jobs would build their scaffolds out of the best heat material so they would not have to replace them during the time it takes to complete the job.

Everybody who comes to town remarks about the many improvements going on here, and we have become so accustomed to it that we rarely yet think of it. But it is a fact, that more money is being spent on improvement than at any time during the history of the town.

The Standard Telephone and Telegraph Company, under the management of Harry Culvin is putting under the ground over $3,000 worth of cables. When the poles have been pulled up the streets will afford much more room.

How funny a joke isn't when it's on you.

Ancestors come in handy to inherit money from.

It takes a pretty smart widow to pretend she isn't.

And a man is judged by the society that avoids him.

After all, the average man doesn't lose so very much money.

The man who isn't proud of being honest is ashamed of being poor.

Some men live in the country, some in the city and others just board.

Never do until tomorrow the mean things you contemplate doing today.

If a woman hasn't anything else to brag about, she boasts of her ailments.

The man who wants but little here below should patronize a cheap boarding house.

A woman may be able to make money go farther than a man, but she can't make it go as fast.

It Still Runs

The exhaust pipe at the Dothan Oil Mill is still doing business, and whether or not the council has taken any action toward encouraging the suppression of that nuisance, we have not been advised. We hoped that the council would take the matter under consideration Monday night, and ask the management of the oil mill to put a $250 muffler on that exhaust pipe. That is about the cost of one, and it will pay for itself the first night that it is used.

We people who live in Dothan are living here because we think we can do better here than we would at some other place. The people who are here make up the town, the citizenship. We try to have things that will please a great number, the majority, in fact, and when the town, as a town, says it wants a certain thing, it usually gets it. For the town is its own boss. It has unlimited authority in most matters. The town does not allow a thing to exist that is a menace to any considerable number of its people. We maintain that the noise made by the exhaust of the gas engine at the oil mill is a nuisance. We claim that four or five thousand people will say the same thing. When a thing is a nuisance, it ought to be abolished.

LITTLE NICHOLSON CHILD

Occasionally, say about once a year, two or three sports hit the town and hang out at the hotels for a week or ten days. They spend their time getting a fresh shave, and a shave, and waiting for important mail at the postoffice. They look neat and well-groomed, but there is something over done, or lacking, and you can never exactly place them. At first you think they are insurance agents trying out a new contract, but you find later this isn't so. You may be tempted to place them as capitalists, seeking investment, promoting enterprises, or probably you will pass them up as traveling doctors, or spectacle men, only to find later that every guess is wrong. You take to studying them, as they leisurely twist their waxed moustache, thoughtfully planning an attack. You want to know, but don't want to ask them what they are doing. But it comes; you find that they are placing a few shares of stock for the Come-and-Get-It-Now Company. They have come across several states to present this unparalleled proposition to a select few before the stock goes higher the first of the month.

It is remarkable what piles of information they pick up about the town and its fishery—especially the sucker species, during the week or ten days they may hang out before trying their luck.

Several bales of green certificates are hidden in this town, but no one will hardly find it out. People who have bought enough of this parchment paper to paper their offices with, are particular about letting the public know about such stock certificates. They put them away with other valuable papers, but in a few months they hide them, thinking, probably, the assessment calls will not find them, but they always do.

An average man would as soon let you catch him taking a correspondence course in gold-bricking, as to catch him with a ream or two of mining stock. He feels sheepish, for he don't want you to know that he is about to make a pile of money for almost nothing in the way of expenditures.

Gamblers are lured on by the reports of winnings, not by the reverse. If a gambler loses, he says nothing. If a stock buyer loses, he won't tell anyone, not even his wife, or the tax assessor. That's why you never know who owns stock in organizations in New York that is never listed. If they sold some of this stock that they bought at ten cents on the dollar, and were to make ten dollars, the fact would be blown like they had bought a seat on the stock exchange.

If you incorporate a legitimate business, a cotton mill, an oil mill, or a bank, you may not find Jack Buys for the stock at home—not every time. It will sell, though, if you take it far enough away, and spend enough money with the engravers.

GAYNOR DECLINES TO BE CANDIDATE

MAYOR'S REFUSAL PUTS NEW YORK DEMOCRATS UP IN AIR

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The Democrats started in today to select a platform and select a man for the gubernatorial nomination for the Democratic state convention which will open here today. Mayor Gaynor's second letter, in which he said he would refuse the nomination for governor, has left what the leaders term an open field, with Representative James S. Havens apparently leading.

The withdrawal of Mayor Gaynor threw the leaders into temporary confusion. It had been predicted that Gaynor stood a strong chance of being nominated by acclamation, and it was known that he was not alone favored by Tammany, but by many of the delegations and leaders from other sections of the state.

A series of conferences started today which is expected to last all night and up until the doors of the convention hall are opened tomorrow. State Chairman John A. Dix said today that the convention would set a new mark in Democratic ranks for harmony. Until this morning not a single contest had been filed with Secretary Mason, of the committee. Mayor Gaynor's bombshell had the effect of stimulating the balance of the booms today. There were enthusiastic gatherings and energetic exacting of promises.

FIGHT MAY PROVE FATAL

Elba, Sept. 29.—Night before last near his home Bud Bowdoin and Ike Prescott had a fight in which Bowdoin is said to have struck Prescott over the head with a piling, fracturing his skull in two or three places. Prescott is still unconscious and the doctors say that he has very little chance for recovery.

Bowdoin bore an excellent reputation, was of a quiet and peaceable nature, and married a sister of Prescott. He has not yet surrendered.

Both were the two main witnesses for the state in the case against Will Wilkes, which was to have come up for trial today. Wilkes shot General Bowdoin about three years ago.

As this latter killing was about the wife of General Bowdoin, and she is the only other eye witness to the tragedy, the state was forced to continue the case against Wilkes until the next term of court.

OZARK MAN ASKS FOR PARDON

Upon his return from Birmingham Wednesday morning, Acting Governor Henry B. Gray, spent a busy day receiving callers.

William Garner, of Ozark, was one of the first to see Governor Gray. He called upon the chief executive in behalf of Warner Carroll, the young man convicted pardon was sought by a number of citizens of Ozark. Carroll, in charge of J. Craig Smith, of the convict department, was also present. The party was closeted with Governor Gray for some time. The governor did not make any decision in the matter, however, and Carroll is to be transferred from the Henderson-Boyd Lumber Company at Richburg, to the state farm at Spigniers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strickland have moved into their home on West Main street, recently vacated by J. D. Prevatt's family.

STORIES OF PLACES

Mayor Gaynor, of New York city, who holds that "all honest folk should be in bed before midnight," would find Vienna a city after his own heart. The Viennese are subject to a form of impost unknown in America, the "sperrgeld," or door opening tax. They all live in flats and the street entrance is invariably bolted at 10 o'clock each night. When the bolts are drawn persons passing in or out must pay four cents until midnight and eight cents from that hour until 6 a. m.. This toll is levied every time you go through the doorway. COUNTRY HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The residence of T. O. Fagan, who lives on route 6, was destroyed this morning by fire. The origin of the fire is said to be a defective stove flue. Members of the family, except the children, were at the house at the time of the fire, and only a small portion of the household effects were saved.

It does look like the men who own some of the vacant lots in this town would put houses on them. Good dwellings in this town don't stay empty no longer than the carpenters move their tool boxes.

OPENING DELAYED

Owing to the fact the building will not be ready, for lack of carpenters, we cannot open our school till

OCTOBER 3st

The delay is no fault of ours, for we are ready. Material has not arrived, and carpenters are scarce. We will be ready on Oct. 1, 1910.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A merciful man is merciful to his chauffeur.

One way to retain your friends is by not using them.

The man who worships the dollar sign is apt to be crooked.

Or a friend indeed may be one who minds his own business.

Better the sure of today than the uncertainty of tomorrow.

When a man says, "Everybody says so," it means that he said so.

A man who doesn't know what he is talking about always loves to argue.

It's easier to talk about the straight and narrow path than to walk in it.

Fortunately for both halves of the world, neither half knows how the other half lives.

But the pure-food laws do not make any provisions for love that is adulterated with filthy lucre.
